OUR ANNUAL ROUNDUP OF
THE YEAR'S MOST EXCITING WINES

Altocedro Malbec Reserva '06: 92 Points and "Highly Recommended"

"This Argentina red is rich and dark, but also pure, with nice drive to the beam of raspberry, plum sauce and macerated black currant fruit. Creamy tannins and a long, well-integrated finish just sail through, with fine buried minerality. Drink now through 2014. 1,400 cases made. J.M. (Highly Recommended)." -Nov. 15, 2008 issue.

"[Winemaker Karim] Mussi's Altocedro Malbec La Consulta Reserva 2006, which is sourced from a single 2.47-acre plot of 100-year-old Malbec vines, is one of the most exciting wines I tasted this past year. This pure fruit- and mineral-driven expression of Malbec was fashioned in a decrepet winery that Mussi is currently renovating by hand, with only one assistant." -Dec. 15, 2008 issue.

Ranked #66 in Wine Spectator's Top 100 Wines of 2008. -Dec. 31, 2008 issue.
