

LAMADRID

Agrelo, Luján de Cuyo, Mendoza

“Great Value Winery to Look For” -Robert Parker

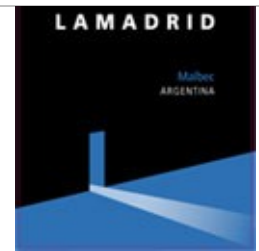

The Lamadrid winery is owned by Guillermo García Lamadrid, and the manager and winemaker is Héctor Durigutti. Lamadrid owns three vineyards in Agrelo: Finca La Matilde (planted 1929), Finca Lamadrid (planted 1973), and Finca La Suiza (planted 2004). Each wine comes from one of these Agrelo single vineyards and only indigenous yeasts are used, with no fining or filtration. The winery combines a unique mix of traditional and cutting-edge winemaking.

The district of Agrelo, in the department of Luján de Cuyo, Mendoza, is called “the land of the Malbec.” This is one of the oldest and most premier growing regions in Argentina. Lamadrid strives to represent the best expression of the beautiful terroir of Agrelo.

“In each bottle of Lamadrid we open a door and discover a world of unique experiences and sensations.”

Lamadrid Malbec

90 points ('10), Wine Advocate; “Top Value,” Wine Spectator ('10):
“A tangy red, with dark layers of blackberry, raspberry ganache and cassis supported by a mineral spine and bright acidity, which drives the creamy, spice-filled finish.”

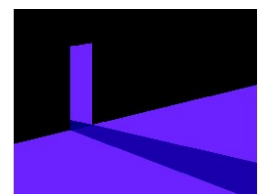

Lamadrid Cabernet Sauvignon

90 points ('10), Wine Advocate:
“Fragrant aromas of Asian spices, incense, cassis, tobacco, and violets inform the nose of a layered, spicy, nicely balanced wine with a forward personality.”

Lamadrid Bonarda

90 points ('10), Wine Advocate: “nose of underbrush, mineral, plum, mulberry, and violets. Concentrated on the palate with good depth, balance, and length, this flavorful effort deftly combines elegance and power, quite an achievement at this price point.”

Lamadrid Torrontés

“Best Buy ('11),” Wine Enthusiast ; 90 points ('10), Stephen Tanzer:
“Delicate aromas of citrus fruit, white flowers, talc and mint. Supple and juicy, with a hint of sweetness to the spice and minerals flavors. Very smooth wine with attractive inner-mouth floral lift and sneaky intensity. The piquant finish shows very good length.”

Lamadrid Malbec Single Vineyard Reserva

90+ points ('09), Wine Advocate, 90 points ('09), Wine Spectator: “This dark, aromatic red displays lovely graphite, spice and floral notes leading to mixed flavors of ripe, creamy black and red berries, as hints of smoke follow through to a grippy, yet floral, finish.”

100% La Suiza vineyard. Malolactic fermentation in oak, and aged for 12 months in first use French and American oak barrels.

Lamadrid Cabernet Sauvignon Single Vineyard Reserva

91 points ('09), Wine Advocate: “The 2009 Cabernet Sauvignon Reserva (100%) spent 14 months in 60% new French oak. Aromas of balsam wood, smoke, floral notes, cassis, and blackberry lead to a racy, elegant Cabernet...”

100% Lamadrid vineyard. Malo-fermentation in the oak, and aged 14 months in 60% first use and 40% second use French oak barrels.

Lamadrid Bonarda Single Vineyard Reserva

91 points ('09), Wine Advocate: “Notions of damp earth, brier, spice box, leather, plum, and mulberry set the stage for a savory, flavorful, impeccably balanced Bonarda that over-delivers in a big way.”

100% Lamadrid vineyard. Malolactic fermentation in oak, and aged 12 months in first and second use French oak barrels.

Lamadrid Cabernet Franc Single Vineyard Reserva

91 points ('09), Wine Advocate: “Herbs and spices (clove, cinnamon, potpourri) intermingle with enticing black fruit aromas to compose the bouquet of this tasty Cabernet Franc. Incipiently complex and lengthy...”

100% La Suiza vineyard. Malolactic fermentation in the oak, and aged 14 months in 50% first use and 50% second use French oak barrels.

Lamadrid Malbec Gran Reserva

93+ points ('07), The Wine Advocate: “The 2007 Malbec Gran Reserva was sourced from a single 82-year-old estate vineyard that spent 16 months in new French oak. It is a denser, richer, more structured version of the Reserva that will benefit from another 4-5 years of cellaring and will provide prime drinking from 2015 to 2022.”

Lamadrid Malbec Matilde

“Cellar Selection” ('07), Wine Enthusiast;
94 points ('07), Wine Advocate:

“The flagship 2007 Malbec Matilde was sourced from the same estate vineyard as the Gran Reserva, but from a particular parcel, with aging for 24 months in new French oak. This loaded effort displays more obvious (but well-integrated) oak, soaring aromas of black cherry, black raspberry, and exotic spices, full body, and a plush, velvety palate feel...”
