

ZOLO TORRONTÉS:

A Great Summer Choice

The Torrontés is Argentina's unique white grape. With its crisp acidity and pleasant aromas, it is a great choice for summer. The Zolo Torrontés is "juicy, with oranges, grapefruit and a touch of honey. Balanced and grown-up. Satisfying and sophisticated, with lovely fruit and admirable restraint." -The Wall Street Journal.

- The Zolo Torrontés has been the highest selling Torrontés in the United States (source: Argentine Customs export data, by value, Jan-Dec 2007).
- The Wall Street Journal named it its "Best Value" ('07).
- Robert Parker's The Wine Advocate rated it a "Best Buy" and called the '08 "Torrontés at its best. The price makes it a steal."
- Stephen Tanzer rated the Zolo Torrontés '08 88 points and said the Zolo brand was "a lot of fruit for the price." (International Wine Cellar, Jan/Feb '09).
- The 2008 Torrontés was the only Torrontés to receive a Gold Medal in the 2009 Decanter World Wine Awards.
