

Altocedro Malbec Reserva 92 Points

Rich and dark, but pure, with nice drive to the raspberry, plum sauce and macerated black currant fruit. Creamy tannins and a long finish sail through, with fine buried minerality. Drink now through 2014.

Altocedro Año Cero Tempranillo 89 Points

“Shows racy mulled spice, crushed red and black cherry fruit and sanguine notes that ripple through the dark, mineral-tinged finish. There's nice length and drive.”

—Wine Spectator

Altocedro Año Cero Malbec 91 Points

“From La Consulta, in the heights of the Uco Valley, this wine's red fruit has a nervous energy. The flavors are firm and fresh with a flavorful depth, all subtly complemented by lingering notes of black pepper.”
